FAITH MATTERS;

~ Pastor Lori ~

You Prepare a Table Before Me, Psalm 23: 5

Psalm 23, is one of the most familiar passages in the Bible. Its rich language offers a variety of metaphors for understanding God. Most popular, perhaps, is the first, that of the "shepherd" who provides secure rest in "green pastures" (verse 1-2). The most vivid, though, is the image of God as the perfect host, who "prepares a table before me in the presence of my enemies," with cups overflowing (verse 5). As a gracious host, God even anoints the guest with oil, a symbol of welcome and respect at ancient banquets. Even when surrounded by enemies, the psalmist experiences the abundant welcome of God, the perfect host, to a banquet table where the psalmist will be treated as an honored guest. Being invited to the table symbolizes more than just being fed. In both Old Testament and New Testament times, to have a place at the table was to be welcomed, to be treated with respect. At banquets, specific rules governed who was invited to recline by the table and join in the meal with the host. We see this over and over again, in the gospels, especially in parables that involve banquets. We also see the rigidity of these rules in the accusations leveled against Jesus for dining with people who would otherwise have been deemed unclean or unwelcome.

For the ancients as, indeed, for us, to be fed is one thing but to be welcome at the table is another. How often in our communities do we find tables that are more exclusive than inclusive, more threatening than welcoming? Perhaps these are not dining tables but other gathering places that reflect society's perspective on who is truly welcome and who is not. We can easily find roundtables filled with experts who talk about communities but rarely with them. Or we might find tables where the wealthy and powerful network with political decision-makers as few of us will ever be able to do. Tables are places at which relationships are built and decisions are made. When inclusive, they can be safe spaces for communities to come together. When exclusive, they can reinforce the discriminatory and stigmatizing practices that keep us apart.

Indeed, at the very heart of who we are as church stands a table: the table of Holy Communion. Martin Luther referred to Holy Communion as a "sacrament of love." In dining at this table, he wrote, we remember our neediness before God, recall those not present at the table and commit ourselves to "tak[ing] to heart the infirmities and needs of others, as if they were [our] own." To be at this table is to be formed by the sacrament of Holy Communion.

To be the people of God is to be formed by a table where all are welcome and all are fed.

Of course, our calling goes beyond this. Worship and the sacraments take their most authentic form when they carry us back into the world, prepared not just to dine at the table but to be that table – that community of welcome, of hospitality of safety and grace with and for our neighbors.

This is a lofty goal that we aim for as church together. Ending hunger will take more than calories, water wells or sustainable jobs. It will take tables - inclusive spaces that bear witness to a new kind of community, where new relationships are formed, where each guest is welcomed and valued, and where every cup overflows with all that is made possible when God draws us together. ## The Scoop on Events and Happenings at St. Olaf for Children, Youth, Parents, and the Youth Ministry Minded

Happy Spring (hopefully),

April brings with it some big happenings at church with Easter, youth events, Sunday school, and milestones. Please continue to be watching Facebook and the posters around the church to know what all is going on.

Easter brings with it our usual Holy Week services starting with Maundy Thursday on Thursday, April 6th at 7pm. The next day is Good Friday, where we will be doing a skit during most of the service and are still looking for youth and kids to participate. Please let me know if you have any interested parties. Last, is Easter Sunday with two services, one at 7am and another at 9:30am. After each service, any kids or youth are welcome to an Easter basket that was made by the Youth and Family board. If you would like to contribute financially to these baskets please let me know, before Monday, April 3rd.

Our youth events are three fold as per usual. The first one is on Monday, April 10th, Family Bowling. We will be going over to New Rockford to go bowling at Wonder Lanes. We will leave the church by 9:30am that morning and return about 3pm. This is for anyone who wants to go bowling. If you would be willing to drive please let me know. Also, please let me know or mark "Going" on the Facebook event so we have a count of who is going. Second, is the postponed Bible and Basketball event. Our new date is Sunday, April 16th, from 6-8pm. This is for any 6th grade and up youth plus friends. We will be having it over at the Middle school. Third, is the early out event for the month on Wednesday, April 19th, Blooket and Board Games. Blooket is a type of trivia game that the kids use at school. This will be held from 2-4pm downstairs in the fellowship hall. All ages are welcome, including adults. We have some board games at the church but if you have one you would like to bring then please do!

Sunday school has a couple things going on besides the usual classes and Family SS on Sunday, April 16th. They will be getting to watch a movie about Easter on Palm Sunday with popcorn and juice as well as singing on Sunday, April 23rd. Also, on the 23rd is our Camp Service. We will be having the program director from Red Willow Ministries joining us for church and Sunday School. I am hoping that every child and youth that we have can be there that day to learn more about what camp has to offer.

Last but not least, is the First Communion class for this year. This is for any 5th grade students and others who have yet to take the class. It will be held on Sunday, April 2nd, from 2:30-4:30. We will be going over some lessons on what communion is, baking some communion bread, and doing a very important art project. Parents/guardians are expected to be a part of this faith milestone for their youth.

Join us for all the fun at and around our church as we see what April is all about.

JLY (Jesus Loves You),
